

Soaking by Richard Wilson

Soaking, another Sandy setting was written in 1969 and dedicated to my wife (although we were not to be married until 1971). It is a complex, enigmatic statement that probably reflects my preference for baths over showers.

--RW